V. Reasoned statement under Article 35(2) with regard to novelty, inventive step or industrial applicability; citations and explanations supporting such statement

1. Statement

Novelty (N)	Claims	1, 15	YES
	Claims	12	NO
Inventive step (IS)	Claims	1, 15	YES
	Claims	12	NO
Industrial applicability (IA)	Claims	1-15	YES
	Claims		NO

2. Citations and explanations

- 1) US-A-2002/0075755 (D1) discloses a meat-processing device by means of which meat is mixed (paragraphs [33-38]). The device according to D1 contains a fat analysis device and a temperature measurement device. Furthermore, in D1, the quantity conveyed (paragraphs [11], [49] and [50]) is adjusted by controlling the pump speed. D1 does not disclose measurement of the speed (of the flow of meat). Therefore, the subject matter of claim 1 is novel (PCT Article 33(2)).

The measurement of the meat speed means that the mass flow can be determined, which enables the average fat content of the flow of meat to be determined using a fat analysis device. Therefore, such a meat speed measurement and the resulting effect are neither disclosed in nor rendered obvious by the cited prior art (PCT Article 33(3)).

- 2) The method according to claim 12 lacks novelty over D1, since the method shown in figure 1 discloses the measurement of the fat content of a resulting meat mixture (figure 1; box 40) (PCT Article 33(2)).

- 3) The method according to claim 15 is regarded as novel and inventive owing to the back reference to the device according to claim 1. The fat content in claim 15 is determined, inter alia, by a speed measurement device (for the flow of meat) according to claim 1 (PCT Article 33(2) and (3)).

- 4) The evaluation of the novelty and inventive step of dependent claims 13 and 14 can be positive only insofar as said claims refer to an independent claim, the subject matter of which is novel and involves an inventive step.
